

HSE STANDARDS FOR CONSULTING AND TRAINING SERVICES

HSE requirements for consulting services

Service Description: Providing consultancy service and studies in the scope of environmental impact, risk, recycling, environmental measurements and other consultations related to health, safety and environment.

The basic standards :

- Obtaining an environmental advisory license from any government authority within the country.
- Obtaining accreditation from the Department of Health, Safety and Environment.
- Provides modern, specialized and adequate resources of equipment, technical personnel and materials for the preparation and implementation of environmental consultations.
- The activities provided must comply with all local and federal laws and regulations relating to environmental conservation.